givejedahand What is so-called One Brave Night?

Its a scam, a witless repitition of last years disgusting FIRST EVER ALL-NIGHT CHALLENGE TO DEFEAT MENTAL ILLNESS.

Obviously that one didnt work or raise enough money either. Nothing could work, and theres no such word as enough in $CAMHs vocabulary so here they go again.

The premise is that mentally ill people are pathetic wretches suffering all night in lonely rooms. So Catherine Zahn and Darrell Louise Gregersen and all that ilk will imitate us by staying up all night in some Queen West hipster bar and getting PAID for it! Doesnt that make you feel better already? Not so all alone?

Its hard to imagine stupider stuff. Its insulting (and stigmatizing) in its caricature of mentally ill people, in its transparently phony combination of pathos and self-interested greed, and in its sheer silliness.

Evidently they have a communications department that gets paid millions of dollars to write drivel. Just fire the fundraisers!

Where do they get their (mis)information?
People living with mental illness tell us.

O, yeah? What did they do, a Sean the Kidd survey of inclusive spaces the Parkdale Library, the Sun Fa, the Gladstone House, the Drake?!t

Darrell Louise Gregersen ran into someone on White Squirrel Way? Literally? Catherine Zahn experienced one of those amazing chance encounters with humanity that she raves about in public?
